

50 Jersey City Men Coming Here To Assist In Search

Kin Of Camp Victims To Hunt Bodies

SOMETIME THIS morning a caravan of 50 men will pick its way through the devastation near Camp Davis.

They will be men in search of the remnants of life on an island filled with the odor of death.

They are coming from Jersey City. Some of them will be relatives of women and children who were swept from the camp by twisting flood waters on August 18.

The rest are volunteers who are making the grim pilgrimage as a gesture of aid to those who lost members of their families in the flood.

The Constant Effort

Local workers—most of them State police troopers, game wardens and volunteers—have made a constant effort during the past week to find the bodies of the Camp Davis missing.

Today's group comes from outside the area as a result of the urgent need on the part of relatives to find their sons or daughters. Two such men are Raymond Winfield of Rutherford, N. J., and William Rutherford of Staten Island, N. Y.

Winfield is in search of the body of his eight-year-old daughter, Karen. The bodies of his wife, Edna and a son, Rowan, 6, have been found. Rutherford, too, lost his wife and a child; is in search of the body of his son, not yet recovered.

Equipment There

One piece of heavy equipment will be stationed on the banks of the Broadheads to aid in the search. It will be a bulldozer. It is to be used to break away tight-fitting debris which has clogged the stream and is believed to hold the secret to the deaths of other Camp Davis missing.

Yesterday, the "island" was quiet most of the day. No new bodies were found.

Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, State police and Dr. Sidney Cohen, Stroudsburg dentist in charge of denture analysis for purposes of identification, spent most of the day compiling data on the bodies of the two persons—a woman and a child—found on Thursday on the island of debris.

Information Released

Dr. Rushmore said that "Body No. 13" was that of a child, apparently between 10 and 11 years old. The child had been wearing four-buckle arctics. The arctics were still on when the body was found.

The lower part of the body had been dressed in a jersey-cloth type pajama pants of indeterminate color. The pants had no fly opening.

Dr. Cohen's examination of the mouth showed that the child had apparently had considerable dental work done. The lower cuspid teeth were not yet fully erupted or grown, his report showed.

The Cloth Pouch

The body of the woman—listed at present as "Body No. 14"—indicates that she was between 65 and 70 years old, weighed about 130 pounds and was approximately five feet, two inches tall.

Her body was clad in undergarments—both pants and skirt—and the middle part of the body was encased in a bone-laced corset.

One definitive clue to a possible identification was found attached to the brassiere on the body. This was a small cloth pouch with a design. The pouch contained money, Dr. Rushmore said.

Dr. Cohen's analysis showed that the woman had a full upper plate; that there was a gold crown on the rearmost tooth in the lower jaw. The enamel on the front teeth was mottled, his report shows.

There were several teeth missing in the lower jaw. Again, Dr. Cohen said, it was his belief that the woman had had considerable dental work.

The death toll from the August 18 flood remains the same: 61 known dead. Of this total six are unidentified.

Mountainhome, Buck Hill Water Supply Termed Safe

MOUNTAINHOME — The water supply fed to customers in this village was declared "safe for drinking" last night by State health officials in Wilkes-Barre.

Bernard Bush, regional sanitary engineer, said that the Mountainhome supply has been given an exhaustive series of tests and has been found safe. Bush said the water supply at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls has also been completely tested and found absolutely safe following the rains which brought floods to the region.

Residents of Mountainhome and Buck Hill no longer need to boil their water, Bush said.

Resumption Of Passenger Service Tentatively Set By Railroad For Sept. 15

ENCOURAGED BY rapid progress in repairing the flood-ravaged tracks of the Lackawanna Railroad between Scranton and Stroudsburg, President Perry M. Shoemaker said yesterday that through passenger service between Buffalo, N.Y., and Hoboken, N.J., may be restored by Sept. 15.

Shoemaker added that present indications point to through freight service being restored by Sept. 13.

The predictions by the Lackawanna president came as crews prepared to return to Scranton on an 11-car train stranded by the flood at Tobyhanna on the ill-fated night of Aug. 18.

Train Moved

A pickup train stranded at Moscow was taken to Scranton Thursday night. But it will be at least a week before a nine-car train marooned at Cresco can be returned. Thousands of tons of fill will have to be dumped into Devil's Hole at Paradise, west of Cresco, before the train can be moved. Even to get equipment into operation, the Lackawanna had to start from scratch and build a roadway.

Marooned at Cresco and rescued by helicopter Aug. 19, were the 235 passengers on Train 5, which left Hoboken, N.J., on the westward journey at 4:45 p.m., the day of the flood. Train 44, which left Scranton at 7 p.m., carried 89 passengers. They were evacuated by bus from Tobyhanna the following day.

Layoff Plan Accepted

DETROIT, Sept. 2 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers extended their layoff pay plan to the first of the automobile industry's "Little Three" today. But the union gave American Motors Corp. an extra year to put it into effect.

The "Big Three"—Chrysler Corp., which accepted the plan only yesterday; General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co.—agreed to start building multimillion-dollar trust funds at contract signing to finance layoff pay.

American Motors doesn't have to start its trust fund building until Sept. 15, 1956, and benefits from it will not become available until a year after that. Workers for the "Big Three" become eligible next June 1 for pay during layoffs.

As in the three agreements before it, the American Motors-UAW pact followed quickly on the heels of a general walkout. No strike lasted more than a few hours.

Water Line Extended To Pocono Park

MONROE COUNTY Water Co. yesterday completed its connection from Flagler Run supply to Pocono Park and immediately began moving equipment to W. Main St. for the last important major pipe crossing of Pocono Creek.

The water moving from all sources—Stokes Mill to central borough and Flagler Run to Pocono Park—IS STILL NOT FIT FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION AND SHOULD BE BOILED.

The last bit of work on the difficult new line extension at Pocono Park was completed in time to turn the water from Flagler Run source on at 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

A chlorinating outfit was already attached to this line for purging the line pending the time samples are taken and given a laboratory test to insure the water is absolutely safe.

Assistance Arrives

George Williams, superintendent of the Honesdale Water Co., arrived here yesterday with an expert crew of water pipe installers to assist William Curnow, superintendent of the local company in completing the installations.

The Bailey bridge at Pocono Park was closed briefly while the new line was extended across Bridge St. to the main feeder line to homes in the west section of the borough.

Herman Reese, sanitary engineer from the office of District Engineer Bernard Bush, said all chlorine equipment is being installed as rapidly as major line connections are made.

Water samples will be taken promptly in all parts of the borough and sent to laboratories in Wilkes-Barre where tests are to be made.

A heavy schedule of work at these laboratories has lessened considerably and with an augmented crew of technicians the report on Stroudsburg's water is expected to be expedited.

Curnow said as soon as the Pocono Creek crossing at W. Main St. is made, small breaks and less important repairs will be immediately pressed.

$53,083 Now In Red Cross Disaster Fund

RED CROSS disaster fund rolled up to $53,083.67 yesterday, but more funds are needed in view of an estimate that relief and rehabilitation working in varying degrees will keep the organization functioning here for another six weeks.

Included in contributions yesterday were:

$400 from the master of the Norwegian-American Line ship Oslofjord which put on a benefit show for the local disaster area. Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Crowe, passengers on the ship, alerted by a cable of conditions, had complete cooperation of the ship and crew and actress Peggy Wood. Mr. Crowe acted as master of ceremonies.

Additional Gifts

A check for $500 from Carl E. Anderson, Vice president in charge of operations of Revlon, was received yesterday.

Others include the $1,000 from Stroudsburg Rotary; $500 from C. H. Crowe, Inc.; $500 from Pocono Catholic Missions; $2,270.22 from American Encustle & Tiling Co., a gift from employees which was matched by the firm.

Other contributions were received yesterday from such distant points as LaJolla, Cal., and Waukegan.

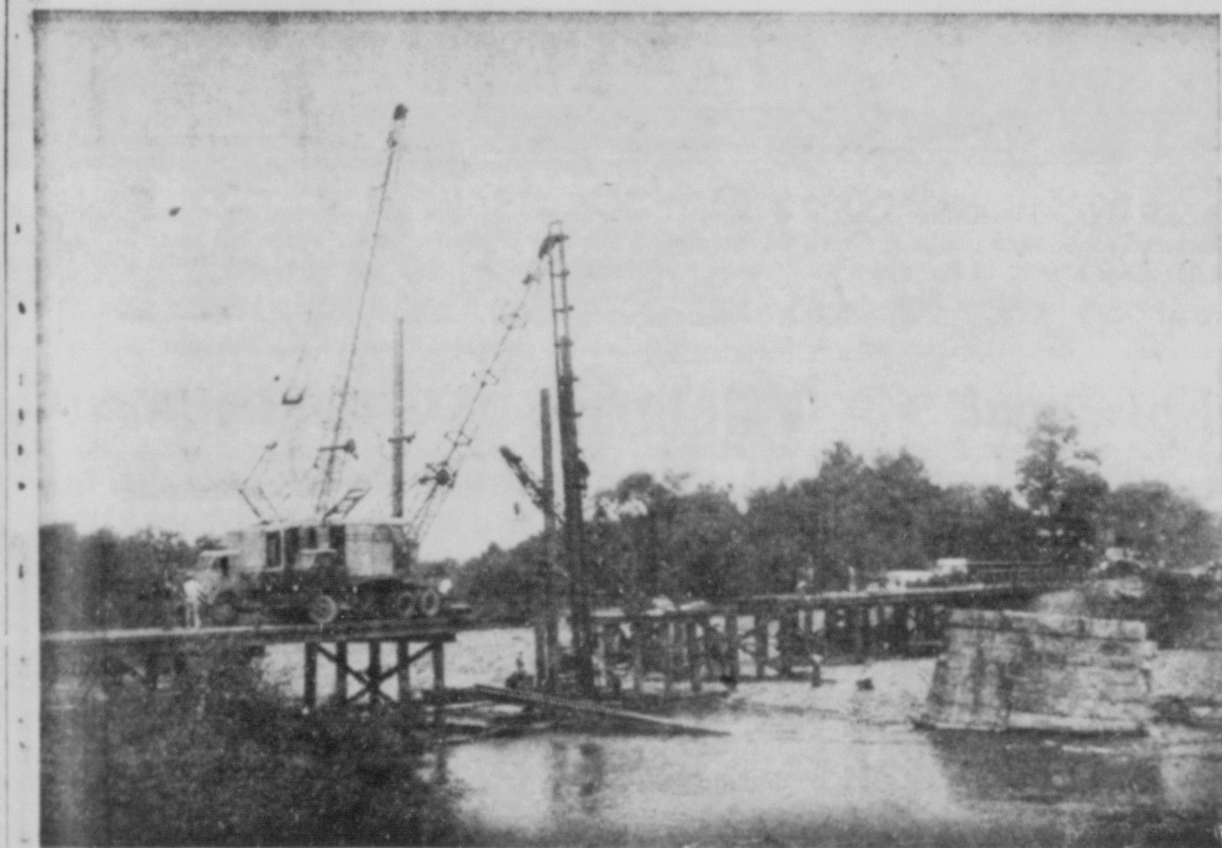

National Red Cross President Makes Tour Of Disaster Area, Visits Various Centers

BOTH extent of the disaster in Monroe County and the tremendous strides already made toward rehabilitation of the area impressed Ellsworth Bunker, president of the American National Red Cross, in a visit made here yesterday morning with other high ranking officials of the national organization.

Bunker had a chance to judge both, first-hand, in the rapid trip through the Stroudsburg led by Charles R. Bensinger, Monroe County Chapter chairman.

They had seen the force, extent and area of the disaster from the air, but in their two-car caravan they smelled and touched and saw

Conference On Road-Bridge Restoration Procedure Called

A "SET-THE-RECORD-STRAIGHT" meeting for all township supervisors and borough councilmen who have had flood damages to roads or bridges has been set for 1 p.m. today at the State Highway Department headquarters on Route 611.

Aim of the meeting is to outline to these municipal officials the pattern of procedure and responsibility for restoration of roads and bridges on township and borough systems, as well as state highway systems.

Representatives of the U. S. Army's Corps of Engineers, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the State Highway Department will each outline the scope of their operations, the procedure for aid, if any, and the area of responsibility of the municipalities.

Arthur Weisenberg, district engineer; Dan Bailey, state township engineer and Dale Daubert, district township engineer will represent the State Highway Department.

Contractors Rush Work

Meanwhile, contractors hired by the state for restoration of bridges and roads on the highway system are pressing their work and local maintenance crews, augmented by men and equipment are putting forth every effort to repair shoulders and other damages to roads, state highway officials said yesterday.

There will be a cessation of activity on this work during the holiday week-end — largely for the purpose of regrouping and reorganizing to put forth a more concentrated effort next week, officials said.

With Labor Day holiday traffic expected to reach unexpected peaks, officials pointed out it will be difficult to move equipment to and from scenes of operations anywhere.

Piliero said he believed the car that struck him was a 1953 model, two-door Chevrolet, light green in color. Police requested anyone knowing of a car answering this description with damages to the left front notify the State police in Stroudsburg.

Scott Presides Over Senate At Tax Session

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2 (AP)—To Sen. William Z. Scott (R-Carbon) went the honor tonight of presiding over the Senate as the lawmakers pushed through a 57 million dollar program to aid flood-stricken eastern Pennsylvania.

Scott's district—Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties—includes some of the counties most stricken by the flood last month.

Upper House Hikes Gas, Smoke Levies

HARRISBURG, Saturday, Sept. 3 (AP)—The Senate early today completed legislative action of a bipartisan plan to raise 57 million dollars for flood relief.

By a 48-0 vote, it approved the House-passed bills to increase the gasoline tax a cent a gallon and the cigarette tax by a cent a pack with the revenue earmarked for flood-ravaged areas in eastern Pennsylvania.

Only a handful of senators turned out for the post-midnight session. The absentees, however, indicated their vote preference in advance of the roll call clerk.

Leader To Sign Today
The post-midnight session was part of a timetable to place the 57 million dollar flood relief program in the hands of Gov. Leader for his signature later today.

The House also stayed in session after midnight solely for the purpose of permitting Speaker H. G. Andrews to sign the legislation, too, before it went to the governor. It takes five days to pass a bill. Since the cigarette levy was not submitted until last Tuesday, a Saturday session was set up.

Meanwhile, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Senate president pro tempore, said in a statement on Gov. Leader's contention that Taylor should sit in future tax compromise conferences:

Would Waste Time
"As long as the governor continues to rule out a sales tax and economies in government, before we even sit down, I think we will be wasting our time."

Earlier, he told a newsman—"I won't be there"—when asked if he will sit in on the next tax conferences starting after Sept. 12.

Meanwhile, Adj. Gen. A. J. Drexel-Biddle testified before a Democratic senatorial budget committee that it would be an error to cut the military affairs budget by $680,000.

"Economy is being practiced all along the line," said Biddle of his department.

"We have the best National Guard in the United States," said Biddle. "Do we want anything less?"

He said state-owned armories are "in dire need of repairs, due to shameful neglect over the past eight or more years."

Requirements For Return To Homes Set Up

EAST STROUDSBURG Board of Health yesterday announced minimum rules of requirements for returning to unoccupied dwellings in the flooded area of the community.

Briefly they are:
Dwellings should be thoroughly steamed for your benefit, before it is safe for you to live in them.

The borough has made arrangements to do this steaming at no cost to you upon the signing of a release.

THIS WORK MUST BE DONE WHILE VOLUNTEER LABOR IS AVAILABLE.

Releases may be signed at Police Headquarters in the Municipal Building, or contact Health Officer Ernest Younk.

Army To Award Creek Contract

THE CORPS OF Engineers expects to award a contract for removal of debris from Pocono Creek sometime today.

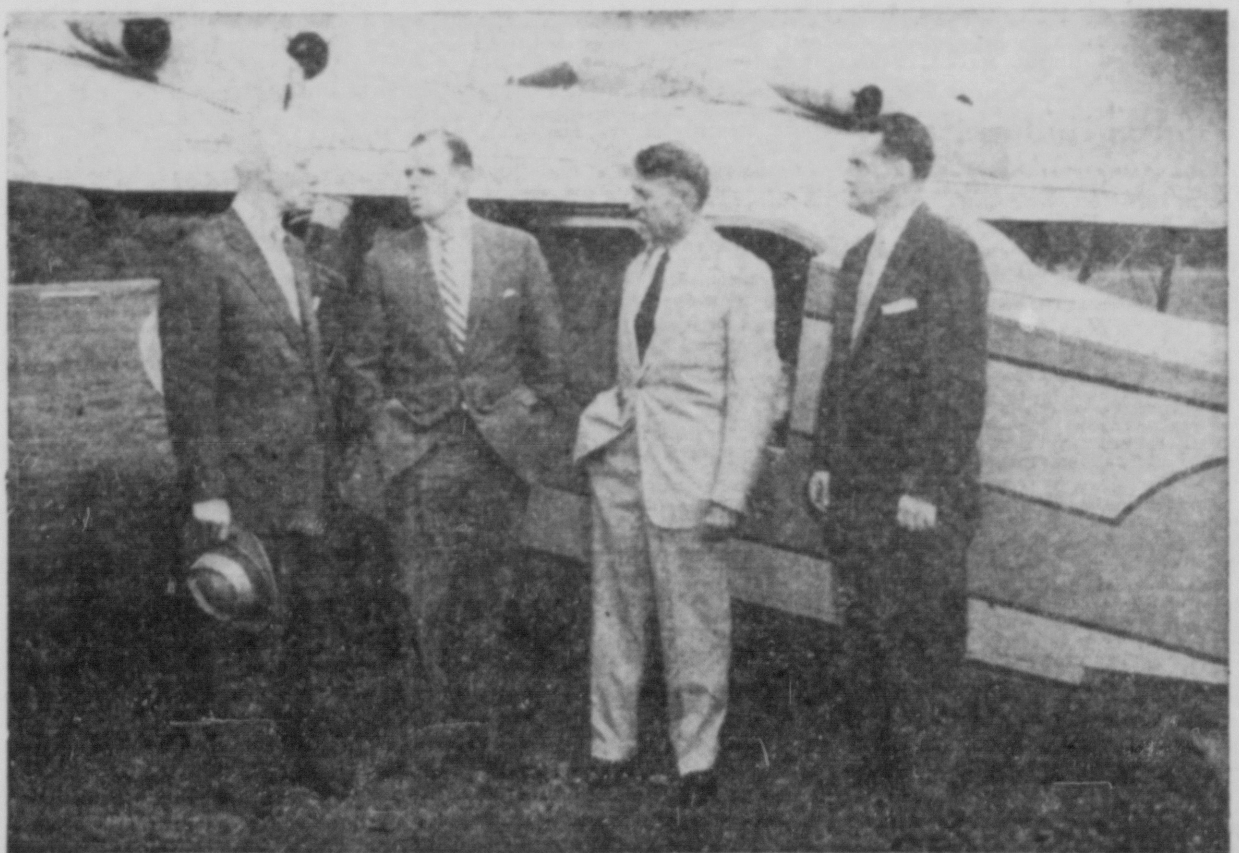

Area of the creek to be covered stretches from Stroudsburg to Tannersville.

The contract will be the result of an extensive survey made during the past week by engineers. Field trips to spots where debris has piled high were made with contractors who were asked to bid on the job to be done.

Deadline Fixed For Free Hauling Of Flood Trash

All persons in the flood areas of Stroudsburg are advised to get anything they want hauled away out of their homes or yards to front streets immediately.

The last pickup by the Donald Marsh, Pen Argyl contractor, will be made Tuesday. Anything tossed out after that time will not be moved. It will be responsibility of the tenant or property owner after Tuesday.

WINGS OF MERCY brought prominent Red Cross officials here to inspect the scope of the disaster and pace of the recovery. Catholics Donate $300 To Agencies

MOUNT POCONO—Pocono Catholic Missions, through special collections at Sunday masses, have contributed $300 to the Barrett Welfare Fund and to American Red Cross.

Officials of the mission noted that other funds will be used as cold weather approaches to extend individual care to any and all persons in the mission area who have needs to face the approach of Winter.

By that time, it was emphasized, some of the normal relief work will have been discontinued and some hardships will have to be alleviated on an individual basis.

Praises Welfare Fund

Msgr. C. A. McHugh said yesterday the work done by the Barrett Welfare Fund, the only agency ready and approachable in the area due to bridges and roads being destroyed, was exceptional.

The Welfare Fund group moved in promptly and "did a splendid job helping all those who needed aid immediately after the flood."

It was this agency that filled the gap in welfare work pending arrival of other agencies such as the Red Cross, Salvation Army, the monsignor said.

Dover Group Leaves For East Borough

DOVER, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP)—The Helping Hand Caravan—a group of contractors, laborers and working men—left tonight to spend the Labor Day weekend in flood-wrecked East Stroudsburg, Pa.

The 21 men, traveling by bus and truck aren't vacationing—they're going to help put the stricken community back on its feet.

They had planned earlier today to go to Waterbury, Conn., but have been advised by officials there that a sufficient number of volunteers are reporting for work in that area.

The caravan will consist of a bus, three dump trucks, a general supply truck, a trailer truck and bulldozers.

The caravan returns here Monday night—so the men can go to work Tuesday morning.

IT ISN'T EASY!

'Most anything worth doing, isn't easy.

A man's job, for example, isn't easy. Often it's complicated and dangerous with problems a-plenty.

It isn't easy, either, to be a homemaker. A dozen skills and more are needed, not to mention endless hours of monotonous tasks.

Yet, man or woman, usually you're urged on by a dogged determination to "do it—or else!"

But when it comes to living a life that's commendable and above reproach, does your determination still prod you on? Do you dare stand for right against all odds?

Then your place is in the Church, where others feel exactly as you do. Join them now in worship and work, and your determination will be strengthened, your faith renewed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

As a matter of fact the auto industry owes its growth to the horn. The auto would never have become popular had the horn been left out. Hank Ford got nowhere with his early car until he put a big, bulbous, hand pressure horn on it. Other early auto builders sold few models until they began equipping cars with even noisier devices. Suddenly a public that had been indifferent to the auto began crying, "This is it!" and developed an obsession for making unnecessary disturbances. Never before had people in the mass been afforded an opportunity to act like children, show defiance for fellow creatures and make other people jump.

Special Police To Patrol Stroudsburg Flood Zone Today

Cars Barred; 100 Volunteer In Cleanup

ONE OF THE tightest police controls possible will be in force over the flood area in Stroudsburg's first ward today to permit a concentrated cleanup effort by scores of volunteers from the local area who will supplement outside volunteers.

Chief of Police James F. McConnell and his entire force will utilize the services of 30 uniformed police being sent here on a volunteer basis from Jim Thorpe, Pa.

All Cars Barred

All cars—even those of workers—must be left out of the area to permit free movement of trucks, bulldozers, loaders, the volunteer workers and anyone else connected with the "big push" on cleaning out the area.

Guarded entrances to the area—where you'll stay out with any vehicle unless there's a sound emergency—will be at Fifth and Main St., Fifth and Sarah St., and Fifth and Third St.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars parking lot will be used to station cars of everybody, including some 15 uniformed police who will be down in the area on patrol to see there's absolutely no interference with the cleanup.

Over 100 local people have volunteered to help in old clothes, with brooms, shovels, hoes and any other equipment necessary for the cleanup.

Report To Methodist Church
Rev. Roger Stinson of Stroudsburg Methodist Church is assigning work details. Persons not affiliated with the Junior Chamber of Commerce group or the Varsity S. group are asked to report to Rev. Stinson at the Methodist Church.

Other volunteers are urgently needed for this major effort.

Rev. Stinson said work will continue today, Sunday and Monday with all volunteer forces that can be mustered. Today he took over feeding of a large group of Amish people. This was made necessary by discontinuance of canteen service in the area.

Serves As Interpreter

The Amishmen, collaborating with Mennonites and other volunteer workers, speak their "Pennsylvania Dutch" dialect almost exclusively, so that Rev. Stinson served as an interpreter in cases where an Amishman wanted to know whether a householder wanted "this saved" or "that thrown out."

Stroudsburg council's regular pump crews, steaming crews and firemen for flushing operations, continued their operations yesterday and will be functioning in connection with the "mop up" operation during these next three days.

Draft Board Calls Two

TWO MONROE COUNTY men have been ordered by Selective Service Board here to report for induction on Tuesday. They are: Nelson H. Rogers, Stroudsburg, and Nelson E. Deubler, Blakeslee.

CLU To Meet September 11

A MEETING of the Monroe County Central Labor Union will take place on Sunday, September 11, at 7 p.m. The meeting will take place at the CLU hall.

CLEANUP AND CLEARANCE of the flood-stricken Second St. area is progressing. In photo above, a light, maneuverable shovel scoops up debris from houses which has been deposited, by borough board of health order, in street in front of homes. Rubble and mud is then dumped in trucks waiting to haul it away. Over the weekend hundreds of volunteer workers from outside the area will move in to help. Other hundreds have already been here; some of them are still in the area and will stay.

Borough Pushes Cleanup With Help Of Outsiders

OVER THE weekend, workers hope to get a large part of the cleanup campaign in Stroudsburg finished.

With volunteers coming in from far-distant regions — the Mennonites, the Amish, Jaycees, American Young Friends Committee and others — work is expected to speed forward.

In line with this hopeful sign, Stroudsburg borough Board of Health asked all residents to keep in mind instructions for the final phases of the cleanup drive. Here are the board's reminders.

Clean the Celler

Clean out the cellar of your house as thoroughly as possible. Throw all debris into the streets so it can be picked up by shovel units and trucks.

Clean out your house. Again — throw all debris, mud and other undesirable matter into the street so it can be picked up.

Wash off all the furniture and other articles or equipment which you want to salvage. DON'T put things you want to save into the street — put them alongside your home instead so that workers will not mistake them for material to be thrown away.

Register For Hosedown

When your cellar is cleaned out and your home has been cleared, go to the information booth maintained by the health board at Stroudsburg Motor Supply Co., Fifth and Main Sts., if you want your house "hosed-down" with water hoses.

After the hosedown is completed, you may register at the information booth for "live steam" cleaning of your home. But the hosedown must be completed first.

Before moving back into your home, the house must be cleared for occupancy by Samuel Van Gorden, borough health officer. To get clearance for occupancy, contact the information booth after all cleaning has been finished.

What To Do?

If residents have any questions concerning methods of cleaning or sanitation regulations, contact the information booth.

State sanitarians have provided an assistant for Van Gorden in his current work to clear the residential sections for occupancy. All queries concerning health matters should be taken to the board of health booth.

Dr. W. R. Erickson will be away from his office Aug. 30 to Sept. 5th incl.—Adv.

Report Given On Red Cross Flood Relief

Of the volunteer help given by the Mennonites and others who came into the disaster area for actual physical work, Bensinger credited them with spelling the difference between long-term disaster living and very rapid recovery. Clearing of homes could be coordinated with clearing of streets by Army engineers, a job which otherwise would have dragged on for months.

Leo Achterman Jr., in charge of channeling their work, gave a testimonial to the Mennonites who have 133 homes completely cleaned and many more almost ready, to their Christian spirit which communicated itself to the whole community, and to their self-sufficiency. He listed other volunteers due this weekend and matters for billeting and feeding them and providing equipment were discussed.

Cleanup Completion

The basic home cleanup should be completed by Monday, he said. Roy Mikels, county blood donor chairman, praised the people of Berwick for taking Monroe County's place in giving blood and a resolution was passed by the board in gratitude to them.

Bensinger in summing up the meeting promised that when the permanent disaster recovery had been reached that the county would know that the Red Cross had been here and would know that they had done a good job. In the months to come, he said, will be to have a constant and organized flow of volunteers to keep the program going after the emergency period ended.

WE'RE GETTING THERE—Ellsworth Bunker, president of the American National Red Cross center, heard from Mayor Jesse Flory, and Mayor Hal Harris, right, at the conclusion of a tour of the disaster areas yesterday afternoon made by officials from Washington headquarters.

Signs Of Disaster, Recovery Both Evident As Red Cross Officials Tour Both Towns

The official delegation from the American National Red Cross yesterday came to inspect the flood damage in this area and to satisfy themselves that the Red Cross was doing its best to help the individual sufferers to recover.

In the trip which Charles R. Bensinger, local chapter chairman, piloted, he saw to it that they saw both and at close quarters. The two-car caravan from the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport went directly to East Stroudsburg, with Bensinger briefing the members in his car in a running commentary as they went.

The Red Cross flag outside of the East Stroudsburg High School marked the food depot for East Stroudsburg, he pointed out as the caravan turned down West Broad Street. Without warning, they left the streets of ordered homes and green lawns and dipped into mud and helter-skelter confusion left by the flood in its tremendous surge through the flats section.

Disaster in the flats Flood water marks high on second stories, the jungles of wrecked cars, personal belongings drying in the sun, a tangle of streets that were no longer streets but muddy lanes leading between houses, houses themselves no longer in neat rows but jumbled together or swept far apart; these were some of the immediate impressions.

To local members of the party, familiar with the section, everything was totally unfamiliar with whole streets unrecognizable and streets where never were streets before.

The caravan passed the playground with its ruined pool, the carnival lot where flood-damaged cars had been hauled to get them out of the way, the tumbled mass that was the firemen's building where the bingo players lost their lives, and made its first stop at the former state highway sheds on Day street.

Furniture Depot There the Red Cross is setting up a furniture depot to serve the whole county when its residents are able to return to their own homes.

The caravan moved up to Washington Street and down to the bridge section around into Lincoln Avenue and Harrison Street where devastation was equally severe before stopping at the Red Cross Disaster headquarters in the Waring building, and the feeding center in the Methodist Church, with a side glimpse of the clothing center at the Globe Furniture Store.

They crossed by the Stokes Mill bridge with the rest of the heavy traffic but then turned off to tour down Second Street, around the damaged plants by the Creek, stopping on Third Street to talk to Rev. Roger Stinson with his food for the bearded Amish, part of the small army of Mennonites who are aiding in the task of cleaning up the homes, busy at work in that area.

Quick visits to dispensary and shelter at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, the feeding station at the Presbyterian Church, the disaster headquarters and the Stroudsburg clothing depot ended at Red Cross headquarters where the mayors of both towns were introduced.

Meet Volunteers Throughout the trip, they shook hands with hundreds of volunteer workers, busy and absorbed in their tasks, and heard from Bensinger the tremendous effort and successful results all of these volunteers were putting forth, and the help rendered by the Red Cross representatives stationed here.

Everywhere they went, men and equipment, workmen and volunteers, borough officials and Red Cross home visitors, were busy bringing order out of disorder, making a town again out of a shambles.

And all along the way, Bensinger himself was asked for on-the-spot decisions, was given instructions for future needs, and information about the progress of the work.

At chapter headquarters, drivers of two truckloads of food and clothing were waiting—sent from Dumont and Ridgefield—to be told what to do with them.

If the official party hadn't been committed to a visit to the

Children Give Impromptu Benefit For Flood Relief

The Stroudsburgs have been a strange place for small children since the flood. With parents spending every spare moment in flood relief work and big brothers and sisters serving with the Boy and Girl Scout volunteers, their main contribution to the general welfare has been to stay out of mischief.

However, four youngsters used their time to present a benefit show for the flood relief fund. Through generous contributions of neighbors and friends they were able yesterday to take $17 to the bank for flood relief.

They spent last week practicing for the show, writing out and peddling "invitations" from door to door, collecting almost a dollar on their rounds. To swell the treasury they sold fudge, cookies, plenty of pop-corn and Kool-aid to the patrons.

The young impresarios were Autumn Coffman, 8, daughter of Mrs. Marion Coffman, 84 North Green St.; and Linda Hatten, 12; Charlene Hatten, 9; and Evelyn Hatten, 7, children of the Earl R. Hattens, of 166 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg.

And all of them with their hands full. They shook hands with visiting dignitaries but with scarcely time to lift their eyes from their work, or their mind from the individual flood victim's problem immediately before them.

Mr. Bunker, the national president of Red Cross, revealed that in 1916 he had trained with the National Guard at Tobyhanna—now he visits us at a time like this. We showed off beautifully, I thought, everybody doing their appointed task, everything moving up.

Still it would be nice if he could visit us sometime when we're normal. I got sort of a homesick twinge at the story from Poplar Valley about the pre-flood picnic. It seems as if it must have happened long ago, and recalls a sort of a golden age like a remembered childhood, full of joy and cheer.

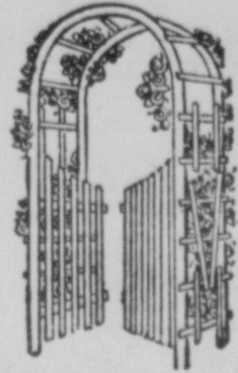

We must have had our problems, but it's difficult to imagine what they were. However, dirt, mud, organized disorder and all, I've never admired us more than I do right now.

Stroud Descendant Sends Check To Town They Founded

The Stroud family, early settlers in this county for whom the Stroudsburgs are named, have also contributed to its regeneration. Among the checks arriving yesterday at Red Cross Headquarters was one for $50 from Jeanette Hollinshead Selby, of La Jolla, Calif.

Although Mrs. Selby never made her home in the Stroudsburgs, her ancestors for generations did. Her father was Peter Hollinshead; her grandfather, James Hollinshead; her great grandparents were James and Sarah Stroud Hollinshead (for whom Sarah Street, Stroudsburg, was named), and her great great grandfather was Jacob Stroud, founder of the Stroudsburgs.

Sunshine Class Tuesday

Sunshine Class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet on Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Decker, Maple Ave. The group will discuss their part in flood relief and other pertinent matters.

"You know, Mommie," says one of my children, "we should have one of the Sears garbage cans with holes all over it." Haven't seen 'em myself, but was presume this "decoration" would be for purposes of ventilation—not so that your neighbors could glimpse your castoffs and estimate your probable food budget. . . . One mother, whose problems are much like my own, confesses this flood has been a relief in one way. "The water shortage is the best excuse I've ever had for my children looking like scavengers." We know exactly what she means. My own little folks have always been allergic to water used externally—particularly when mingled with soapsuds. Their greatest show of generosity has come since the emergency. In the vociferous protests: "Really mother, I don't want to use the water—the family needs it." . . . Bud Altemus, head of our men's department, is justly proud of an honor bestowed on him the other evening by Phoenix Fire Company, number 2, of Stroudsburg. In recognition of his efforts with the company during the disaster, he was presented with an honorary appointment and badge—the first awarded since prior to World War 2. Had it not been for the alertness of the firemen the night of the flood, and for their courage and ingenuity in evacuating families from the danger area, the death toll would have been terrific right in our own town. We salute them all, including Recruit Altemus! . . . I do hope that Beatrix Sherman, our silhouette artist reads this and contacts me. The silhouettes she made of my children are among my most precious possessions, and I am sure the Holt Wyckoff family will always treasure the amazingly lifelike family group which she made at their home. Even a photograph could not capture so amusingly the staid, starchy, starchy of my Tim's hair, or the pert, puckish tilt of Maura's nose. I shall hate seeing Beatrix leave us—she's been as fine a friend as I have an artist. . . . One of our Wyckoff PBX operators admits that nothing ever upsets her—except the possibility of a disconnect when "Papa" Wyckoff telephones from Europe. . . . One million more American children will be off to school this year than last, according to United Press. Which means more youngsters will be outfitted in stores like Wyckoff's across the nation. No wonder our Back to School departments are buzzing like the proverbial beehive. These are the days when our children's sales personnel get a real workout—and so does the dapper gray pony in their department. These are the days too when the sale of handkerchiefs should boom, for there's never been a dry eyed mother, I'm sure, on a kindergarten's first day in school. . . . It seems strange to walk from my office into the main store, and find the beauty salon plunged in darkness. But that's the story, folks as John Cameron Swayze would say. How glad I am I got under the wire, on those two short days when hair was being set. As soon as the ban is lifted, we'll be back in business with a rush—so watch the Shopper column and listen to the radio. And why not keep in touch with Wyckoff's by a daily visit?—there's always news and something new!

RILEY

Many Pocono Mountains Baseball League managers, players and just plain fans were angrier at a recent ruling that set aside all action taken in the legal regular league meeting held at Pocono Chateau on Monday, August 15. At that time the circuit membership voted to force Lake Harmony to forfeit a game to Readers, after the two clubs had difficulty rescheduling two rained-out contests. The odd part about the entire thing is that the rival managers had reached an agreement prior to the meeting.

But, the subject was brought up at the gathering and by a vote of six-to-two, with Saylorburg abstaining from voting and Bushkill absent, the league membership directed that Lake Harmony forfeit one of its two remaining games with Readers and play the second. Readers won the contest played between the two teams, 8-7. But, now the circuit has been informed by league president Clinton L. Getz that action taken at the most recent meeting was illegal according to Article 12, Section One, of the by-laws. The verdict was reportedly handed down in a letter to the league president.

There was much anger vented yesterday, as stated above. Various interested parties had many stories, but from this angle it appears as if the verdict made public has two sides. The verdict, the latest one I mean, is probably absolutely correct legally, but under the set-up of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League it is, in this reporter's belief, wrong. Overlapping duties in the circuit make legal verdicts only partially correct or maybe even partially wrong.

The importance of the decision is visible in the standings. Lake Harmony, as of this moment, apparently has a record of 13 wins and four defeats. If the league vote were allowed to stand the number two club in the standings would have a mark of 13 wins and five defeats. Under these conditions Tannersville, now sporting a mark of 11 victories and five setbacks, could tie for second place in the final standings by sweeping a doubleheader planned for tomorrow.

Tannersville will meet Kunkletown in the opening game tomorrow and then oppose Bushkill in the nightcap. According to plans the first and third place and second and fourth place entries will oppose each other in the post-season playoffs. Certainly, and most naturally, nobody wants to oppose pennant winning Saylorburg, a club that has lost only two of 18 regular season outings.

As a final note on the Pocono Mountains League dispute, I would like to point out that the recent decision takes all value from the team vote, the only bit of power given to any organization in a meeting. It also gives the president of the organization dictatorial powers. If the league continues to operate under the current set-up next season, individual team representatives will have very little, if anything, to say about its operation.

East Stroudsburg High displayed flashes of football power during a recent practice session. Speed appears to be its true strength. Martin "Ducky" Martz, former grid star at East Stroudsburg High and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was an interested spectator at one of this week's practice grinds at Memorial Stadium. At least five freshmen have quit the Stroudsburg High football squad.

East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Board unanimously voted to give Stroudsburg High permission to play its football games at Memorial Stadium this season. The vote took place at Thursday's meeting. The manner in which business was conducted at the first meeting of the East Stroudsburg Midget Football League leads one to believe that its success will soon be assured. Each person present at Thursday's gathering appeared to have a keen desire and was anxious to launch the program.

Every man remaining in town over the weekend or not working at a regular or special task, is urged to join the Varsity "S" Association work detail, which plans to scrub as many flood damaged Stroudsburg homes as possible in the next three days. Those men not belonging to the club may feel free to join the group as the work is open to all interested volunteers. Make Monday a real "Labor Day." Three days of hard work by the Varsity "S" sponsored group will go a long way in putting the community back on its feet. Report at 8 a.m. today. Your reward will be a clean feeling of helpfulness.

Pocono Mountains League Lists Four Baseball Games

Doubleheader Slated For Kunkletown

TWO REGULARLY scheduled games and a pair of exhibitions will highlight the Labor Day weekend activity in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League.

The two regularly scheduled encounters will be played as part of a doubleheader at Kunkletown, the first contest listed for 1 p.m.

Kunkletown will oppose Tannersville in the first half of the (win-bill, while Tannersville and Bushkill battle in the nightcap. The opening tussle is scheduled for nine innings, while the nightcap will be played over the seven-inning route.

Pennant winning Saylorburg and Readers, one of the most talked about clubs in the league, will battle in an exhibition contest at Saylorburg today, at 2 p.m.

Saylorburg is scheduled to hold an important practice session today at 2 p.m.

Saylorburg will also be the scene of the circuit's scheduled All-Star game on Monday. This game, postponed last month because of area floods, is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

Rivals
It will pit the Old Timers against the present All-Stars. Both teams are made up of players still active in the league.

Melvin "Bub" Bush, Ananink, will manage the Old Timers and the league has appointed Clarence Smith, circuit vice president, to head the All-Stars.

Bush's lineup includes Paul Strunk, Bob Beecher and Clair "Coke" Metzger, Ananink; Bob Hawk, Miner Harrison and Russ Harrison, Barrett; Dick Miller, Bushkill; Floyd "Reds" Kresge and Woodrow "Woody" Costenbader, Kunkletown; Delbert Getz, Freeman Getz and George "Dutch" Snyder, Lake Harmony; Mike Jaramcheck and George Heyler, Moorestown; Sam Bonser and Ray Davies, Readers; Lloyd Brong, Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer and Gilbert "Gil" Overpeck, Saylorburg; Dick Peechack and Leon "Spike" Werkheiser, Tannersville and Dave Paynter and Wayne Wise, West End A. C.

The All-Star lineup consists of Les "Bruno" Doll and Larry Shook, Ananink; Dick Harrison, Vic Rozelle and Lamar Price, Barrett; Harold Litts and Dick Hickman, Bushkill; Dick Serface and Sterling Scheller, Kunkletown; Jim "Cocky" Wilson and Frank Smith, Lake Harmony; Don Horn and Ray Keglovitz, Moorestown; Mike Bonser, Les Woodling and George Harshorn, Readers; Bob Bonser, Jack Newell and Jack Sommers, Saylorburg; Sharon "Ott" Peechack and Karl Wein-gartner, Tannersville, and Al Conklin and Harold Foust, West End A. C.

Chisox Slam Five Pitchers To Easily Dump Indians, 8-1

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, romping through the offerings of five pitchers with a barrage of 14 hits, maintained their lead in the American League pennant race tonight with an 8-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the opener of a four-game series.

The triumph kept the Sox a half-game ahead of the New York Yankees, who beat the Washington Nationals today 4-2, and moved Chicago a full game and a half up on the third-place Indians.

Four Hitter

Southpaw Jack Harshman went the route for the winners, limiting the Indians to four well-scattered hits. The sole run scored off him was at the hands of Ralph Kiner, who led off the sixth inning with his 16th homer of the season.

Minnie Minoso was the outstanding figure in the Chicago offense. His single started a three-run spurge for the Sox in the fourth inning. He singled in a run in the fifth to put Chicago ahead 4-0 and slammed a two-run homer, his ninth, in the seventh in which the Sox scored four runs.

Sal Maglie, 37-year-old right-hander purchased last month from the New York Giants, started the parade of five Cleveland pitchers who faced the onslaught.

Redlegs Blank Braves, 2-0
MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2 (AP)—Home runs by Ted Kluszewski and "Rocky" Bridges gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves before 22,105 fans tonight. Art Fowler pitched six-hit ball to win a tight duel from Warren Spahn.

Phillies Nip Giants On Smalley's Hit

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2 (AP)—Roy Smalley's pinch-hit double drove home two runs in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and give the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-3 victory over the New York Giants tonight in the battle for third place in the National League.

Trailing 3-1 as they came to bat in the last of the eighth, the Phillies socked "Windy" McCall for three doubles and a triple to give Robin Roberts his 22nd victory of the season against 10 defeats.

Attack

After Granny Hamner fled out to open the Phillies eighth, Del Ennis doubled for his third hit of the night. Willie Jones struck out, but Stan Lopata, who was hit on the head by a McCall pitch in the fourth, tripled scoring Ennis. Jim Greengrass, who hit his 10th homer in the second, doubled to right to score Lopata.

Andy Seminick was passed intentionally to get at Roberts, but Manager Mayo Smith sent Smalley in to bat for his star right-hander.

Dodgers Blank Pirates On Snider's Homer

BROOKLYN, Sept. 2 (AP)—Duke Snider's 41st home run, a two-run clout in the sixth inning, broke up a brilliant pitching duel between Brooklyn's Karl Spooner and Pittsburgh's Dick Hall tonight as the Dodgers defeated the Pirates 2-0.

Spooner, who hurled his first complete game of the year his last time out, picked up his second straight on a four-hitter. Only once, when the last-place Bucs loaded the bases in the fifth, was the young southpaw in trouble while gaining his seventh victory against five defeats.

Tight Duel

Through the first five innings Spooner and Hall, the converted outfielder, gave up just two hits apiece. Then, with two out in the sixth, Pee Wee Reese reached Hall for a Texas League single and Snider followed with his slice into the left-center field stands.

Hall, now 6-4, put the National League leaders down in order in the seventh, then gave way to a pinchhitter in the eighth and Max Surkont finished up.

Spooner walked four and struck out two. Hall walked three, fanned two.

Spanish Swimmer Sets New Mark

Wall Trails By Stroke

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., Sept. 2 (AP)—Sam Sneed and Mike Souchak carved out five under par 66s to today to share the first round lead in the $20,000 Insurance City Open golf tournament, but they played second fiddle to an amateur who scored two amazing holes-in-one.

Bill Whedon, of Farmington, Conn., set what must be a record for a major tournament with aces on the fifth and ninth holes. PGA Tournament Director Ray O'Brien said he had never heard of anyone scoring two holes-in-one in one round of a major tournament before.

Five Birdies

Souchak's 32-34-66 included five birdies.

Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., shot a 32-35-67 over the Wethersfield Country Club course to land in third place.

Eight players were bunched at 68.

Yanks Triumph On Ford's One-Hitter, 4-2

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—A brilliant one-hitter by Whitey Ford and Mickey Mantle's three-run homer in the sixth inning gave New York a 4-2 victory over Washington and kept the Yankees in the thick of the pennant fight.

Whitey started his only trouble in the seventh by walking leadoff man Mickey Vernon. He got Roy Sievers on a foul but Carlos Paula fished a single to left and when the ball got past Irv Noren for an error, Vernon scored and Paula raced to third.

Bill Martin, playing at shortstop, threw out Tom Umpflett and Paula scored the second run.

Opens Spree

Martin, who had spent the last 14 months in the Army, touched off the Yankees' spree in the sixth with a single to left for his second safety of the game. He had doubled in the third. Yogi Berra sent Billy to third with another single and Mantle batting left-handed against right-handed Bob Porterfield, clubbed the first pitch into the lower rightfield stands for his 36th homer of the year. He has hit 26 of them left-handed.

Elston Howard's pinch triple off Mickey McDermott, third Washington pitcher, scored Mantle with an insurance run in the eighth.

Ford said Paula "hit a fast, low, inside curve that was going to be a strike. It was just where I wanted to pitch it. Paula had grounded to short on the same pitch in his last time up."

Varsity 'S' Association To Clean Flood Damaged Homes

VARSITY "S" Association members, made up mostly of former athletes at Stroudsburg High, and all other volunteers wishing to help in a clean up campaign, are asked to report to Tom Somers, at Community Jewelers, today at 8 a.m.

The association has decided to scrub down and clean up flood damaged homes in Stroudsburg.

Work will continue today, tomorrow and Monday. The association is particularly anxious to make Monday a real "Labor Day."

Names of families needing help to clean up their homes will be supplied the Varsity "S" Association by Rev. Roger C. Stinson, pastor of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The Varsity "S" Association will hold a "Porch Light" collection among the homes in Stroudsburg on Tuesday and a similar collection will take place in the West End section at the same time.

Banks Sets Mark As Cubs Win

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Ernie Banks set his own major league home run mark for shortstops today with his 40th circuit blow of the year as the Chicago Cubs hung a 12 to 2 defeat on the St. Louis Cardinals before a ladies day crowd of 14,693.

Thus Banks, a native of Dallas, Tex., and playing his second full season in the majors, broke Vern Stephens' mark of 39 homers. Stephens set his record in 1949 as a member of the Boston Red Sox.

Ends Drought Banks, who was homer-less for 18 games after hitting his 39th on Aug. 11, connected the second time up during the Chicagoans' eight run second inning.

After singling to open this spurt, the Cubs' biggest of the year, Ernie connected with two mates aboard the second time he batted with two out.

Thereafter Chicago scored two runs in the third and added single markers in the sixth and seventh as Randy Jackson belted his No. 17 homer and veteran catcher Walker Cooper his seventh.

Wally Moon hit his No. 17 homer with one out in the ninth.

Cash Gifts From Parish Total $3,000

ST. MATTHEW'S Catholic Church parish has contributed $3,000 for disaster relief funds for this area since the flood.

The gifts included $2,000 to the Red Cross fund—$1,000 earmarked for Stroudsburg and a similar amount for East Stroudsburg.

The parish also contributed $1,000 to the East Stroudsburg relief fund.

These relief gifts came from proceeds of special collections taken at masses in local churches.

Farm Losses Due To Flood Termed Comparatively Light

MONROE COUNTY'S farmers escaped with comparatively light damage from the August 18-19 flood, it was announced yesterday by John A. Noel, area supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, Huntingdon. There is more damage evident from the drought preceding the flood, Noel said.

Mr. Noel, in collaborating with Arthur Ifft, county extension service agent completed a thorough survey to determine flood damage and try to assess how much the F.H.A. will be called upon for disaster relief.

14 Have Damages

Noel said 14 farmers have some damage. In the Shawnee Valley area, a number of sections of farm land have been severely eroded. Heavy gullies were ripped through some acreages. This is the Delaware River flood area with some small feeder streams contributing.

In the Broadheads Creek watershed region, erosion cases have been listed. Here, however, there has been some considerable damage to farm structures.

Very little loss of livestock has been found. Noel said the only major loss discovered involves some 250 poultry.

Crop Losses

The crop loss includes 40 acres of corn, about 55 acres of hay or grass lands which has been covered with flood debris and one field of alfalfa.

"Most of the damage we observed was caused by the drought, Noel said. Crops were blasted by excessive heat and dry weather. The rains came too late to save them."

Also aiding Noel and Ifft in the survey are Park R. Everett, Kunkelton, R. 2; Arlington W. Martin, Effort; Mrs. Alice Wicks, Stroudsburg, R. 2.

Assistance with loans from F.H.A. is bound by certain regulations.

Loan Plans

Loan seekers must be an "operating farmer" drawing his major living from farm operations. Loss must be over 25 percent. In such cases a loan at three percent interest can be made.

There's another method of qualifying for a five percent loan which basically involves how much credit is available from other sources.

Applications for loans may be obtained with a complete explanation at Mr. Ifft's extension office in Stroudsburg post office.

Irvington Eagles To Bring Toys

SOME thoughts for the little folks who may have clothing, food and other necessities, but who have no dolls, games, or other toys, were developed into direct action yesterday by the Irvington, N. J., Eagles.

They are now in the process of assembling a mass of brand new toys for the youngsters in the flood areas of Monroe County.

The truck load of toys will be supplemented by other things for the youngsters and older folks when it arrives here Sept. 11.

Les Voss, secretary of Stroudsburg Eagles, received the offer from the Irvington Lodge yesterday. He made immediate arrangements to set up a distribution center on the third floor meeting room of the Eagles Club here.

LANTERMAN
In memory of Capt. William E. Shiffer who was killed in Korea Sept. 2, 1950: FIVE YEARS AGO
The curtain closed five years ago on our dear BIRDY's life. It happened on the battlefield of horror, hatred and strife.

That curtain remains closed To the friends who knew Bird Not so for those who loved him The memories linger still.

As we look through the open curtain A little boy we see Playing with trucks and toys Happy as he can be.

Longingly we gaze upon him In this happy frame of mind But Time has been marching on, And a soldier boy we find.

Come through the open curtain With arms outstretched toward me I am to my Birdy's life It's just a vision I see.

God has taken him to a land That's free from sorrow and wee It's here for him Only his will is that Land we will go.

One day real soon We'll be going there And meet Jesus Face to face.

With Birdy Boy and Loved one's share That home, where Sorrows melt away. NOTHER, B.A., JIM & GEORGE.

Search Party To Hunt Body Of Phillips

GREENTOWN—A searching party will be organized here tonight at 8 to find the body of John Phillips, Greentown resident, who disappeared in roaring flood waters Aug. 18.

Phillips is the 11th person who is believed to have died in the furious flash flood. The other 10 bodies have been recovered.

Albert Harmon, Greene Township justice of the peace, will be in charge of the search party. Residents hope to get about 50 to 75 persons to help.

Phillips was in the house with his wife, Myrtle; sister-in-law Kate Phillips and mother-in-law, Annie Gilpin, when the flood hit. The bodies of the three women have been recovered. A son—Ray, 20—was saved. He and his brothers have spent the past two weeks searching for the body of their father.

Engineering Consultant Returns To Area Where Mother Served During Flu Epidemic

By Leonard Randolph

ANYONE WHO remembers the disastrous flu epidemic of 1918 in Monroe County could have himself a hunk of nostalgia right now by talking with a genial, earnest gentleman named James P. Miller.

Miller is a former resident of Bangor. He is now on duty in Stroudsburg as a construction engineering consultant to the Corps of Engineers, civilian style.

As such he's partly responsible for a good many of the decisions being made. He's a good man for the job, the Philadelphia District Corps office decided, because he knows the area well.

Like Mother, Like Son

All this is by way of harking back to that flu epidemic—one of the worst mass illness catastrophes ever to strike this area. And it brings us to Miller's mother.

Mrs. Jane P. Miller was a nurse. She was the first State nurse this area had—and a darned good one, to judge from the remembrances of residents today who were on hand when the epidemic took hold.

One of those persons is Dr. Nina Price, East Stroudsburg. Dr. Price recalls that Mrs. Miller came to this area fresh from her graduation from hospital nursing school.

The mess she walked into, on assignment from Harrisburg, was appalling, Dr. Price remembers. Men, women and children were dying in large numbers. There were few families which had not lost or were not to lose at least one member. In many cases whole families had been stricken and there was no one to care for them.

"Really Pitched In"

The new State nurse "really pitched in" right from the moment she arrived, local residents recall. Dr. Price says the nurse "went with me back into the backwoods sections when no one else would go. She sat all night with the dead and the dying. When morning came we went right on to the next home to treat the sick."

The flu epidemic—distant and remote though it may seem now—was a disaster in its own right. The loss of life was tremendous.

Considering the family background in times of disaster, maybe it was a foregone conclusion that Miller should be sent to Monroe County. In the present emergency Miller has been able to contribute an added know-how to the services of the Corps of Engineers—because he knows the area well.

Third Shots To Be Given

ANALOMINK—Third typhoid inoculations will be given to people in the Analomink region Sunday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Analomink school.

Mrs. Lorraine Tweedie, R.N., announced plans for administering the third typhoid shots and urged all who have had the first two inoculations to respond between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Although he has not lived in Bangor as a full-time resident for many years, Miller recalls most of the Monroe County region and the State Belt in detail.
